

I am very disturbed that the NJ Do Not Call laws may be watered down or even overturned. For years, telemarketers and phone solicitors have disturbed my family and I during dinner, times of crisis where the last thing we needed was to be harrassed to sign up for newspaper delivery or to make charitable contributions, etc. I urge the FCC and the courts to keep this law in place and would even like to see it become a model for the rest of the country. I, like most people, don't need to be hounded to purchase someone's product or service. When I am in the market for something, I will make the solicitation calls to the appropriate businesses asking them to sell me something. Thank you for your consideration.
